MAVERICK : NO HOOF, NO HORSE.

Below is a case study of a horse that has been treated with our green ILLITE clay.

This is the story of MAVERICK, a 10 years old Quarter / Andalusian cross gelding.

He was donated to Equine Recline and now resides in Sahuarita, AZ.

On November 19th, 2008 Maverick sustained an injury to the coronet band and hoof on his front right hoof on the outside. Owners finally figured out that he somehow got his hoof underneath the back gate to his stall, which is metal. He severely tore up the coronet band and sheared off the hoof down to the underlying tissue.

The owner was not familiar with the use of clay for wounds but had heard about its wonderful healing properties.

A few days after the injury occurred, Maverick was treated with our Green clay.

No antibiotics were used!

Maverick was also treated with essentials oils and a Chinese herbal formula called “Hoof health and Growth” provided by “For Love of the Horse”.

All of this healing is simply and completely natural....
CLAY TREATMENTS WERE STARTED ON NOVEMBER 28TH.

Wound is packed with Green clay mixed with a tea of yarrow and calendula as well as essential oils.

“When we removed the bandaging, it smelled awful. The wound itself did not, once the clay was rinsed. We think the clay is pulling out toxins, etc and that is what we are smelling.” says the owner.

And she is right!

Already starting to look really healthy...
Maverick.. December 11 th.

13 days on clay.

"We've been packing his fetlock and leg with the clay to help with swelling, circulation, etc. Oddly enough he does seem to be regaining a very small amount of mobility in that leg and trying to use it more."

“His hoof looks incredible. It is almost completely sealed over and is very healthy. We are so happy!”

I want to personally thank Maverick’s care givers for being open to the idea of a more natural approach to healing wounds. It takes a lot of faith and trust to “think outside the box”. I am very pleased with Maverick’s progress and his recovery.

I wish him continued success.
